

The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh

International Medical Graduate Sponsorship Scheme

The arrangements for sponsorship of international medical graduates

AIMS OF COLLEGE SPONSORSHIP

1. To sponsor overseas doctors for registration with the United Kingdom General Medical Council (GMC);
2. To support and promote training for doctors from overseas whilst ensuring patient safety;
3. To support and foster links between postgraduate institutions in the UK and overseas.
4. Sponsorship exists to allow International Medical Graduates to come to the UK for a period of training in their specialty before returning to their own country.

SPONSORSHIP

5. Consultant Surgeons in the United Kingdom, who wish to sponsor an overseas doctor in a post they have identified, must ask one of the Royal Surgical Colleges to endorse the arrangements and to administer the appropriate documentation. For those who wish to use our College the following conditions apply.

THE UK CONSULTANTSUPERVISOR

6. The UK consultant supervisor must be a Fellow in good standing of one of the Royal Surgical Colleges of Great Britain and in Ireland or a member of a Specialty Association recognised by the Joint Committee for Surgical Training. The UK consultant supervisor will act as tutor/mentor to the candidate throughout the period of sponsorship and will be required to submit interim and final reports on the candidate's progress. The College reserves the right to withdraw sponsorship should these reports be unsatisfactory.
7. The first contact to the International Medical Graduate Sponsorship Scheme (IMGSS) MUST be made by the UK Consultant who is prepared to be the UK sponsor and to offer the candidate a suitable post (Specialty Trainee (StR), Fellowship etc) in an approved practice setting as outlined by the General Medical Council, with the support of the relevant Postgraduate Dean. The post offered must be at the equivalent of ST3 level or above.
8. The post offered by the UK consultant supervisor must be for a minimum of six months, preferably one year, and be paid by the National Health Service or a University and have written approval from the appropriate Postgraduate Dean. A copy of such written approval confirming the educational value and funding of the post must be supplied by the UK consultant supervisor along with a copy of the confirmation of appointment letter provided to the doctor by the relevant Medical Personnel department. If the post is an honorary post the employing authority must verify that it carries the clinical responsibilities essential for training by agreeing to grant the candidate crown indemnity for the duration of the post.

9. Educational approval of Fellowships from the Postgraduate Dean is an essential requirement before the post is accepted as suitable by the College. This means that the post is recognised for training, is funded in accordance with UK employment regulations and will not adversely affect UK trainees' training opportunities.

THE OVERSEAS SPONSORS

10. The candidate is required to provide details of two overseas Consultants (or equivalent overseas senior clinicians) to act as overseas sponsors. Each overseas sponsor should be a distinguished surgeon, preferably a Fellow in good standing of one of the Royal Surgical Colleges and, preferably, known personally by the UK consultant supervisor. The candidate must have worked with one of the overseas sponsors within the previous twelve months and have worked with the other overseas sponsor within the previous two years. Relatives of the candidate may not act as sponsors.
11. Each overseas sponsor will be contacted by the College and requested to provide a structured reference for the candidate. The sponsors will be required to comment on the candidate's competency in relation to the General Medical Council's guiding principles of Good Medical Practice and the candidate's clinical abilities.

THE INTERNATIONAL MEDICAL GRADUATE

12. An international medical graduate who has qualified outside the European Economic Area (EEA) and who does not benefit from the provisions relating to EEA nationality may seek sponsorship by the College.
13. An international medical graduate who has attempted and failed the PLAB test will NOT be considered for sponsorship by the College.
